

‘Practical Medicine in Jewish Scriptures and Adjacent Traditions’

International Workshop, 4 November 2015, 9:30 – 14:30

Organised by
Lennart Lehmhaus (Freie Universität Berlin, A03, SFB 980)
Franziska Desch (BerGSAS Berlin Graduate School of Ancient Studies, TOPOI Excellence Cluster Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)

Workshop venue: Freie Universität Berlin, TOPOI-Haus, Kaminzimmer, Hittorfstraße 18, 14195 Berlin-Dahlem

Moderation: Franziska Desch (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)

9.30 Morning Coffee/ Welcome

10:00 – 11:00

Igor Itkin (Berlin), The Unborn in Judaism – theory or practice?

11:00 – 12:00

Shulamit Shinnar (New York), Rabbinic Discourse on Miscarriage: An Analysis of Rabbinic Examinations of Parturient Tissue.

12:00 Coffee Break

12:30 – 13:30

Lennart Lehmhaus (Berlin), Bloodletting, Cupping, Venesection in Talmudic texts – Practitioners and Practices.

13:30 – 14:30

Lucia Raggetti (Berlin), Recipes, Talismans, and Medical Practice in Early Arabic Sources.

on behalf of
Collaborative Research Center (SFB 980) “Episteme in Motion”, Research Project A03
The Transfer of Medical Episteme in the ‘Encyclopaedic’ Compilations of Late Antiquity Heads: Philip van der Eijk and Markham J. Geller
www.sfb-episteme.de/en/teilprojekte/sagen/A03/index.html

The conference is funded by SFB 980 Episteme in Motion

