

Scholarship Between Clay and Light

Libraries, archives and documents in the Eastern world

The use of writing for the preservation and transmission of administrative, scientific, literary and sacred knowledge has a long history in the pre-modern cultures.

From the third millennium BCE on, all forms of intellectual, social and religious progress have been increasingly materialized in the form of a variety of document types (tablets, bones, papyri, scrolls, parchments, books) collected in institutional archives or libraries that were dependent for the most part on royal palaces, state archives and temples. Private libraries housing religious and secular texts might have also existed in these cultures.

The CRC workshop will utilize a multidisciplinary approach to assess the history, role and function of libraries and archives as well as its spots, spaces and associates.

CONTACT:

CRC 980 Episteme in Motion
Transfer of knowledge from the ancient world to the early modern period

Email: michaela.engert@fu-berlin.de
Tel.: +4930/838-59594

<http://www.sfb-episteme.de/>

COLLABORATIVE INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP

organized by

A01 „The Episteme as Configurative Process: Philology and Linguistics in the Listenwissen of the Ancient Near East“ (Headed by Eva Cancik-Kirschbaum),

A02 “Ancient Egyptian Philology” (Headed by Jochem Kahl),
Assoc. project „Knowledge Transfer Between the Priorities of Pluralization and Institutionalization in 16th and 17th Century Korea“ (Headed by Eun-Jeung Lee)

DATE

05.11.-07.11.2015

VENUE

Free University of Berlin,
Fabeckstr. 23-25 (Holzlaube/Neubau),
14195 Berlin
Room: 2.2051 (2nd floor)

CRC 980 EPISTEME IN MOTION: TRANSFER OF KNOWLEDGE FROM THE ANCIENT WORLD TO THE EARLY MODERN PERIOD

Collaborative International Workshop
from the perspectives of the Korean Studies, Egyptology, Ancient Near Eastern
Languages and Civilizations

Scholarship Between Clay and Light

Libraries, archives and documents in the Eastern World

Thursday, 5th of November 2015

Friday, 6th of November 2015

Saturday, 7th of November 2015

12.00 Meeting of the Lecturers and first Discussion of the Agenda (CRC internal)

15.00 Start of Lectures

15.00 Introduction
Prof. Dr. Eva Cancik-Kirschbaum
(Free University of Berlin),
Prof. Dr. Jochem Kahl
(Free University of Berlin),
Prof. Dr. Eun-Jeung Lee
(Free University of Berlin)

15.30 The Storage of Papyri in Ancient Egypt
Prof. Dr. Kim Ryholt
(University of Copenhagen)

16.30 Break

17.00 The Spots and Spaces of public Libraries in the Roman Empire
Prof. Dr. Lilian Maul-Balensiefen
(University of Heidelberg)

18.00 The Network of the Babylonian Libraries in the First Millennium BC
Dr. Philippe Clancier
(Panthéon-Sorbonne University of Paris)

20.00 Dinner

9.00 Early Transmission and Transfer of Chinese Texts to the Korean Peninsula and related Traditions of Archives and Libraries
Dr. Andreas Müller-Lee
(Free University of Berlin)

10.00 The suspended Animation of Old Babylonian technical Compendia in First Millennium BCE Libraries
Dr. Cale Johnson
(Free University of Berlin)

11.00 Break

11.30 The Archives of the Pungsan Ryu Clan
Dr. Myungja Kim
(Korean Studies Advancement Center)

13.00 Lunch

17.00 Guided Tour of a modern Library of Berlin: Staatsbibliothek Berlin – Potsdamer Platz;
Petra Siebe: General Introduction
Meline Pehlivanian: Introduction into the Department of East Asia/Oriental Department

19.00 Open ended Evening

10.00 The Hōzō, Treasure House, as Topos of Knowledge or Archive: The Formation and Expansion of the Legacy of Intellectual Knowledge in Japan
Prof. Dr. Yasuro Abe
(University of Nagoya)

11.30 Break

12.00 The Libraries of Royal Palaces in late Chosun Dynasty
Prof. Dr. Young-jung Ok
(Academy of Korean Studies)

14.00 End